Bulletin Special Edition Connections

In Latin America and the Caribbean, URI is formed by 62 Circles of Cooperation in Argentina, Brazil, Bolivia, Colombia, Cuba, Chile, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Haiti, Mexico, Paraguay, Panama, Peru, Uruguay and Venezuela. The work includes cultural, social and religious diversity and the great teachings of indigenous worldviews.

Every year, on September 21, international day of peace is celebrated around the world. The UN General Assembly declared this date as the day dedicated to strengthening the ideals of peace, through the observation of 24 hours of nonviolence and ceasefire.

This year, it became clearer than ever that we are not each other's enemies. Instead, our common enemy is a virus that threatens our health, safety and lifestyle.

COVID-19 brought our world into turmoil and reminded us by force that what happens on one part of the planet can affect people everywhere.

This year 6 Latin America and the Caribbean join the celebration of the International Day of Peace with the theme: "RECOVER TO IMPROVE AND CREATE A World of Fairness AND SUSTAINABILITY ". And spreading compassion, kindness and hope before the pandemic through actions carried out by our Circles of Cooperation with children, young people, women and scholars from each of their localities and be rightly honoring this diversity and their particular efforts that in this special edition of our Newsletters we share with the world

On Sunday, September 19, we dedicate two hours from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. to talk about the importance of interreligious practice, first as CC, then as A URI, indicating that on September 21 of each year, the International Day of Interreligious Peace, declared by the United Nations, is celebrated, in which more than 1200 Cooperation Circles from around the world participate, with various activities.

We received calls from the listening public, congratulating us on the program, because we were the three representatives of CC AMARU: an evangelical, Catholic and representative of the indigenous worldview for the first time in the station. We invite the listening audience to log into the URI website tomorrow to certify what we report.
